Dear Andrew:

I have had the opportunity to be involved with USA Volleyball, and the sport of volleyball in general, for over 40 years. One of the products that I believe has impacted our sport more significantly than almost any other is the Sport Court flooring which our USA Teams now play on for all domestic dual match competition.

This surface has allowed us to present our sport more professionally than we ever have before, both to live spectators and those watching on television. The clean, colorful, attractive surface showcases volleyball as an equivalent, exciting spectator-friendly sport along with the other major team games. Additionally, the Sports Court surface provides exceptional traction, playing comfort and cushioning characteristics that are consistent for the players and allows them to perform with confidence and at their best.

The other obvious advantage for our sport is that this flooring surface has given us the opportunity to hold major championship events in virtually any arena or convention center in the country. This has dramatically expanded our capability of hosting volleyball events for the National Teams, as well as the multi-team championships, at these major sporting venues and large convention centers.

All in all, the long relationship that USA Volleyball and the National Teams have had with Sport Court has been a major plus in the growth of the sport and the long success our elite teams have enjoyed.

Sincerely,

Douglas P. Beal
Head Coach
USA Men's National Team
